Come celebrate Lummi's Xwullemy (Salish Sea) culture and knowledge with music, great food, activities, and youth speakers.

The Salish Sea Youth Summit is open to Tribal and non-Tribal local youth (ages 14-24) who would like to learn about Lummi's reciprocal relationship with the Salish Sea, and how these traditions can help us all move in a good way into the future. Everything is connected, and we all need to work together!

Please with an open mind and an open heart, come prepared to learn and participate, and to meet new people. This event is hosted by the Sovereignty and Treaty Protection Office of Lummi Nation, and is funded by a Project Neighborly Grant through the Whatcom Community Foundation.
